- Community College Faculty Survey of Student Engagement (CCFSSE)
- Time use questions on both surveys
- Research on student time use behavior and academic performance
- Impact of time use on self-reported GPA

Overview

CCSSE

The CCSSE survey asks students about their college experiences

- how they spend their time;
- what they feel they have gained from their classes;
- how they assess their relationships and interactions with faculty, counselors, and peers;
- what kinds of work they are challenged to do;
- how the college supports their learning; and so on.

cCSSE Benchmarks

The five CCSSE benchmarks are:

- Active and Collaborative Learning
- Student Effort
- Academic Challenge
- Student-Faculty Interaction
- Support for Learners

Benchmark scores are standardized so that all CCSSE Cohort respondents have a mean of 50 and standard deviation of 25

CCFSSE

- Asks faculty about:
- Perceptions of student experiences
- Teaching practices
- Institutional practices
- Also focuses on student engagement

CCFSSE

The Community College Faculty Survey of Student Engagement (CCFSSE)

- elicits information from faculty about their perceptions regarding students' educational experiences,
- their teaching practices, and
- the ways they spend their professional timeboth in and out of the classroom.

CCFSSE

Student Time Use

<< View Previous

About how many hours do you think full- and part-time students on average at this college spend in a typical 7-day week doing each of the following?

Number of hours per week

Empirical Research on Student Time

- There is empirical support for perceived relationship between student time use ("time management") and academic performance
- Research has found a positive correlation between a person's ability to manage his/her time and academic performance (Britton & Tesser, 1991; Conte 1996; Macan, Shahani, Dipboye & Phillips, 1990).
- Conte (1996), for example, in a meta-analysis reported a mean corrected correlation of $r=.31$ between time management and academic performance.
- Class attendance strong predictor of class grades and GPA (Crede, Roch & Kiesczynka, 2010)

Non-Academic (Psych-Social) Factors

Our findings indicate that the non-academic factors of academic-related skills, academic self-confidence, academic goals, institutional commitment, social support, certain contextual influences (institutional selectivity and financial support), and social involvement all had a positive relationship to retention (Table 2). The strongest ${ }^{7}$ factors were academic-related skills, academic selfconfidence, and academic goals. Institutional commitment, social support, the contextual influences of institutional selectivity and financial support, and social involvement had a moderate relationship. Achievement motivation and general self-concept had a weak relationship. The contextual influence of institutional size had no relationship to college retention.

Research on Student time Use

- Why isn't the correlation higher between Preparing for Class and GPA?
- Control variables
- Performance = Ability*Motivation
- Quality of studying moderates the relationship between time spent and GPA (Noonis & Hudson, 2006)
- What do you think?

Number of Hours Spent Studying CCSSE National Results

- Number of hours spent studying at the community college level is shockingly low for many students!
- National Results of CCSSE ( $\mathrm{N}=431,319$ )
- Hours spent preparing for class $<=10$
- All 70.7\%
- Full-time 63.1\%
- Part-time 76.1\%

Sub-group Analysis

- Subgroup Analysis
- This is not that hard to do
- Valuable as discussion point for the feedback of CCSSE results

\squareproc freq data=CCSSE13;
    table ACADPR01/;
    Where paywork in (0,1,2,);
    where also carede01 in (0,1,2,);
    title 'paywork and care for dependents < = 10 hours';
    run;

Sub-group Analysis

| Studying | Pay Work and Dependent Care Hours Combined |  |  |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | < = 20 hours |  | 22-40 hours |  | $>42$ hours |  |
|  | N | \% | N | \% | N | \% |
| None | 4 | 1\% | 0 | 0\% | 1 | 1\% |
| 1-5 hours | 76 | 27\% | 1 | 9\% | 30 | 38\% |
| 6-10hours | 70 | 25\% | 4 | 36\% | 20 | 25\% |
| 11-20hours | 83 | 29\% | 4 | 36\% | 19 | 24\% |
| 21-30 hours | 30 | 11\% | 2 | 18\% | 7 | 9\% |
| More than 30 hours | 20 | 7\% | 0 | 0\% | 2 | 3\% |
| Total | 283 | 100\% | 11 | 100\% | 79 | 100\% |

Note: $>42$ hours includes students who selected response options 4,5 working for pay (PAYWORK) and 4,5 for Dependent Care (CAREDE01) so at a minimum the hours together would be 42 hours.

Assumptions of student workload?

- Is there an assumption that students are spending their time working or dependent care and that is why they are not studying more?
- What do you think?

High Expectations Matter

- Importance of high faculty expectations!

High expectations are an essential condition for student success. Simply put, no one rises to low expectations. But establishing high expectations is no simple matter. It requires more than just words, more than telling students that the community college holds high expectations for them. It also requires the establishment of policies and practices - and in turn, patterns of faculty, staff, and student actions - that reinforce those words in everyday practice. High expectations have to be experienced, not simply heard.

Discussion

- How are you using your CCSSE/CFSSE results
- Have you looked at faculty expectations
- Future directions for research
- More complex analysis: Cluster analysis to identify clusters of students
- Hierarchical linear regression for impact of time on 7 student performance
- Predictors of faculty expectations
