Newcomers to Institutional Research

The TAIR Newcomer's Workshop is a half-day session focusing on resources that are available to institutional researchers and more specifically members of TAIR. The workshop will explore how IR offices and the roles within them are both similar and different across various types of institutions. This presentation will cover the benefits of TAIR membership including the Listserv, Summer Workshops, TAIR conference, and Certificate Program. Let this be the beginning of your networking experience with other IR professionals.

Presenter: Faron Kinchloe – Baylor University

Track: Newcomers

The IR Role in Advancing Data Literacy and Equity

Institutional Researchers are increasingly asked to play the role of expert in analyzing data to identify and assess progress in closing equity gaps. Using the Postsecondary Data Partnership (PDP) Tableau Dashboards as the tool for analysis, this session will focus on strategies IR officers can use to help users explore and make sense of the data.

In this interactive, hands on workshop, the session will begin with a brief overview of the PDP for participants unfamiliar with the project. The majority of the workshop will include interactive exploration of the dashboards, and practice with tools that participants can use to advance data literacy and equity at their institutions.
